CURRENT AFFAIRS: APPS AND PORTALS

CISF launches "e-office" app for movement of files

- An e-office application, that enables movement of files and documents without physical touch, has been launched for usage in the 1.62 lakh personnel-strong Central Industrial Security Force (CISF) to prevent coronavirus infection.
- The application called "e-karyalay" (electronic office) has been designed by the in-house technical team of the force.
- "This application has been hosted at CISF cloud with all security arrangements in place to safeguard the data," CISF spokesperson Assistant Inspector General (AIG) Hemendra Singh stated.
- Moreover, he stated, a data recovery site has also been established to maintain round-the-clock services of e-karyalay.
- He stated the app gives the same visual look like a file that has notings on the left and all correspondence and attachments on the right.
- Files may be opened, worked, parked and closed in the same manner, he stated.
- "Dak" or letters management section of the app handles all sorts of communication between various levels of functional hierarchy.
- As the government has only allowed officers above the rank of deputy secretary to go office and have only one-third of the manpower below this rank on a given day at work, the app will ease the work load.
- Also, it will enable officials to work from home, another official stated.
- The CISF is the national civil aviation security force with 63 airports under its cover and it also guards the Delhi Metro and other vital infrastructure in the aerospace and nuclear domain.
