The Rhino's Birthday

Near the beautiful clean river, Renno the Rhino has three friends who always accompany him to play. There is Pebbles the Tortoise, Melman the Giraffe, and Bunbun the Rabbit.

Today is Renno's birthday. Closing his eyes, Renno thinks about what kind of surprise his friends will give him. Will he get his favorite food gift, or a toy he really wants today?

Pebbles knows what Renno means. So, he meets Bunbun the Rabbit to talk about the matter. "What's up Pebbles?" asks Bunbun the Rabbit. "I am thinking about how we will celebrate Renno's birthday today. Do you have any ideas?" asks Pebbles. "What if we pretend to forget Renno's birthday today then give him all the gifts he wants?" whispers Bunbun. "Wouldn't he be sad if we lied?" says Pebbles.

It's getting darker, Renno is getting worried. He is afraid that his friends won't remember his birthday. Renno, who was happy before, now has a very sad expression on his face.

The giraffe then comes to meet Renno. He has discussed with Pebbles and Bunbun that they will give Renno a surprise he will never forget.

"Reno, why do you look so sad?" asks Melmen the Giraffe.

"Don't you guys remember that today is my birthday?" Renno whispers.

"I'm sorry Renno. Would you like to play with me?" Invite Melmen. While trying to smile, Renno follows Melmen.

Suddenly a distant melody is heard from the top of the tree. Renno sees many squirrels that are humming a beautiful tune.

Pebbles and Bunbun approach Renno and Melmen. Bunbun hands the gifts they have prepared for Renno today—his favorite food and toys.

"Guys, are you giving me a surprise? I'm so happy!" exclaims Renno.

"Sorry, Renno, we didn't mean to lie to you. We just really love you and wanted to make an unforgettable surprise," said Bunbun.

Renno's smile widens and he hugs all his friends. He shouldn't doubt his friends like that!

"It's okay! With or without a surprise party, I will always love all of you!"
